The 21st century is the era where anything and everything is considered as quantifiable, while any theory or notion must have a solid scientific proof attached to it before it can even be considered as an option. In this era, the notion of receiving the powers of the angels in assistance for living our daily lives and in an effort to remain unique, separate and individual human beings, seems completely out of date.

Yet, it is not so. Apart from any religious doctrines or philosophical beliefs, it is an established fact that there are beings out there with tremendous positive powers, capable of intervening in a person's life and making it more meaningful. However, it is the meaning of one's life that has changed definition.

Up to now it was believed that the angels can turn us towards good and the positive values like love and understanding. While this indeed is so, it has taken a more defined form under the notion of acquiring balance between the good and evil sides of oneself. It is quite inadvisable to try and separate a person from their dark side. It is more likely that they will be destroyed instead of turning towards good. Just like nature and the basic principles of life, the good and the bad must be in balance.

To this effect the angels come to our assistance by bringing out the inner qualities that exist in everyone and lay hidden, bewildered by the rhythms of modern lifestyle and the staples of the “here and now” who demand vast amounts of our energy and our complete focus. Contrary to what many believe, this is not a process that requires ceremonies, chants and other considerations of the sort.

All the above are explored and explained in the contents of “Angel Magick: They don’t only save your soul. They also enhance your life”. An independent of religion exploration of the beings of light and welfare that science cannot explain, nor should it.
